

A SYSTEM AND PROCESS FOR ADMINISTRATION OF DATABASES

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system and process for performing administrative functions connected with a sales-related database. The process includes the steps of receiving updated information for the sales-related database in a file configured in a predetermined 5 format; saving the updated information to the sales-related database; and uploading the sales-related database to a web-based database using an administrative tool. The process also includes generating reports using the administrative tool.